

Cover Cleaning and Maintenance

Enhance the lifespan of your ground cover

Enhance the lifespan and performance of your ground cover with our professional cleaning, repair and cover recoating service.

Washing with high pressure washers will place strain on the cover fabric leading to damage of the cover surface and compromise of its performance. We have challenged the conventional washing methods and developed a unique system using specialist equipment enabling the horizontal cleaning of covers - a process that does not place unnecessary strain on the covers or damage the finish.

The cleaning process

We will collect, inspect, clean, repair and recoat your cover before returning it to you - all in one week.

The process includes the specific treatment for stains, soaking and pre-washing and main washing in soft water. Non-PVC covers will be re-impregnated with protective coatings to ensure they are again resistant to climatological and environmental conditions.

This is done by applying new finishes such as anti-mildew and special resins to make the covers water-repellent again. The covers will then be dried and repaired (where necessary) before being returned.
