

NovoSail Takes the Weight

NovoSail, the sail cleaning and finishing experts, grow the business again

Managing Director, Jason Anderton, has re-structured NovoSail's business in the UK, focusing on both retail and trade business alike.

Jason says : "From its conception NovoSail has been very trade focused, but more and more customers are now coming to us direct and the retail side of the business has risen 130% in the last few months. We now have a secure courier service operating throughout the UK, collecting from either your marina or your home address. Whilst most items sent to us weigh up to around 30 kg we can also collect sails as heavy as 200kg with this service."
